Legislative Update

Your City Council Members meet monthly on the first and third Thursday at 7 p.m. in Council Chambers to pass legislation and authorize budgeted expenditures related to the management and operation of our City, and the health, safety and welfare of our citizens. Here are just a few agenda items recently approved by City Council.

- The 2023 Tax Budget. The Tax Budget is a projection of revenues and expenditures for the following year and must be filed annually with the Warren County Auditor's Office in order to receive the City's share of Local Government Funds and 1.11 mills of property tax revenue. Springboro's estimated share of Local Government Funds for 2023 is approximately $250,000 and property tax revenue will be approximately $900,000.
- An agreement with the Ohio Department of Transportation to plan, construct and maintain the gateway monument/landscape project at the interchange of I-75 and St. Rt. 73. The City has partnered with the City of Franklin to make aesthetic improvements to the areas surrounding the interchange that include the cloverleaf adjacent to the exit ramp. These improvements will begin following the construction of the roadway safety upgrades to St. Rt. 73 under I-75 in 2023.
- Consent legislation with the Ohio Department of Transportation for bridge inspection program services. ODOT's bridge inspection program helps cities across the state achieve full compliance with the Federal Highway Administration's bridge metrics, and inspection services will be provided at no cost to the City. The City is responsible for four bridges located on Pennyroyal Road, West Tech Drive, Hazel Woods Park and West Market Street.
- A resolution authorizing the City to submit an application for federal IIJA (Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act) funds through the Miami Valley Regional Planning Commission.

This funding will support the construction of a 3,800 foot long, 10-foot wide multiuse trail from E. Milo Beck Park to the City corporation line on West Factory Road. If funding is approved, the City will receive up to 80% of the project's construction costs for reimbursement. This trail is a continuation of the Central Greenway, a trail that will ultimately connect six Springboro parks to neighborhoods and commercial districts, and to the regional trail network to the southwest in Franklin and northeast in Montgomery County. Construction is anticipated in 2025.

- An ordinance expanding a Designated Outdoor Refreshment Area (DORA) to include additional property within the municipal corporation and establishing requirements to ensure public health and safety within such area. This ordinance expanded the City's existing DORA established in 2020 at Wright Station to the historic downtown area along S. Main Street to Mill Street. A DORA allows patrons 21 and older to purchase alcoholic beverages from establishments within the DORA and carry them in specially labeled cups within a clearly defined area. The City received approval from the State to operate the newly expanded DORA on October 20, 2022.
- An ordinance amending Chapter 1276, Solar Energy Systems, of the Planning & Zoning Code. These regulations primarily focus on building-mounted solar energy systems. The City's existing regulations dated back to 2012, and the amended regulations are designed to provide more flexibility by reducing the regulatory review time for Solar Energy System applications and eliminating the fee associated with the review. The regulation of Solar Energy Systems in the Historic District will remain unchanged.

From Mayor John Agenbroad

As we welcome 2023, I am excited and encouraged by the many new projects happening in our city. Our focus this year is on providing outstanding core services. We'll do this by investing in North Park improvements including new all-access playground equipment, pickleball courts and landscaping. As part of our efforts to attract new private investment in fiber high speed internet, we're well on our way to having every home and business connected to a fiber network giving residents and businesses options for hi-speed internet and connectivity. We'll welcome several new businesses and business expansions, expand road improvement projects and update the park space at Wright Station. We'll host a variety of activities at Wright Station and North Park, including our popular concert series. Our commitment to our Bicycle Friendly Community status includes opening new bike paths and our first pump track at Community Park.

A quick snapshot of our 2023 budget shows expenses projected to be $62.5 million for capital and operations with stable year-end projections in total fund balances. We plan to expand our Capital Improvement Program and eliminate some outstanding debt. Look for specific financial and budget details in our Annual Report, mailed to every home in March and available at that time on our website.

I am grateful for the opportunity to serve you, our residents. Your support of our businesses, schools, non-profit organizations and City services are what makes Springboro the community we all love! It is indeed a great place to Live. Work. Play. Learn and Grow.

MYTH BUSTERS

Economic/Business Development

Every mid to large-sized city in the state—including Springboro—has some form of economic development department or employee within the organization whose job it is to help attract and retain businesses in the community, including Springboro. To help our residents better understand just how economic development works, below is information and some myth busters that may be helpful:

MYTH #1

The City decides what businesses come into a community.

MYTH BUSTER This is probably the biggest myth out there! The City has much more control over WHERE a new business can locate than it does WHICH businesses locate in the community. The City has zoning authority, which determines where businesses, homes and the like can be located in a community. If a certain area is zoned business (and there are different zoning classifications), then any business permitted in that zoning classification can locate there, provided the business meets other standards such as building type, building setbacks, parking requirements, etc. For example – the area of the Historic District is zoned Central Business District. Typical permitted businesses for that zoning are what you see there currently – small restaurants, financial planning businesses, photographer studios, etc. A business such as a car dealership would not be permitted in that area.

As far as WHICH businesses locate in a community – that is dictated by the free market. Business owners have a whole host of reasons why they want to locate their business in a certain area or community – median income of potential customers, labor force availability, location, highway access, etc. If a business owner decides on a location zoned correctly for that particular business, chances are very good that business will be approved for that location.

We often hear comments and questions like, “Why is the City putting in another (insert business type) here? We already have too many!” Please understand that the City isn’t putting that business anywhere – the business owner has made that decision. Businesses – and businesses alone – make the ultimate decision to invest and locate in a community. Businesses need to make a profit – and if a business decides to open – even if there are already similar businesses in that community – that is the business owners’ decision.

For more information about economic development, please contact Greg Shackelford, greg@cityofspringboro.com or 937-748-4343.

MYTH #2

The City needs to incentivize certain businesses to locate in town.

MYTH BUSTER People generally think that financial incentives for businesses are enough to lure businesses into town– but that is typically not the case. In many studies, financial incentives rank 6th or 7th in order of importance as to how a business decides on location. Criteria such as availability of labor, tax structure of the community, location of property in relation to a highway, number of households within a certain proximity and other issues are important factors. For example, many of our residents ask about a Chick-Fil-A. Because Chick-Fil-A has VERY specific criteria for choosing a site to locate one of their stores, if a community does not meet those criteria, no matter how many financial incentives you might try to provide, they are more than likely not going to locate in that area.

MYTH #3

Why is the City allowing “X” business to build on that vacant land when there is a vacant building right next door?

MYTH BUSTER Couple of things here. Again, the City cannot force a business to locate in a certain area—including vacant buildings. Building owners control who leases their buildings and there are many reasons some buildings are vacant – which the City can’t control.

The City does keep inventory of vacant buildings and when businesses look to locate here, we always try to steer those businesses to the vacant buildings—but ultimately—business location is the building owner’s decision.

Property rights are paramount. Even though the City has encouraged a business to locate in a vacant building, if a vacant piece of land is located next to that building, and the business wants to develop the land—instead of leasing or buying the vacant building – as long as the business meets the zoning requirements, more than likely it will be approved.

City Relying More on Income Tax

Springboro property tax rate is lowest in region

Income tax generated from employee withholdings, taxes on the earnings of Springboro businesses and taxes paid by individuals—is the largest single source of revenue for the City, comprising 80 percent of the General Fund. As Columbus continues to cut funding to cities, Springboro has increased its reliance on local income tax revenue.

Our municipal property tax rate—at 1.11 mills—is the lowest in the region. Your Springboro municipal government realizes just over two cents from every property tax dollar collected. Of the balance, 63 cents support Springboro schools. 17 cents are allocated to Clearcreek Township, Warren County receives 10 cents and Special Districts (Warren-Clinton Community Health, Warren County Health District and Franklin-Springboro Public Library) and the Warren County Career Center each receive about 4 cents.

With those tax dollars, your City protects its citizens and property, provides quality road maintenance and offers an array of quality-of-life features that truly make our community unique. As our City's landscape expands and changes, our residents and businesses can continue to expect quality services delivered in a professional manner.

Speaker Series, Biking Opportunities Set for BPAC

Take an adventure on the St. Cuthbert Way in Scotland and England with Jocelyn Hardman, Ph.D. at 6:30 p.m., Monday, Feb. 20 in the Springboro Performing Arts Center, 115 Wright Station Way. For more information about the City's Bicycle and Pedestrian Plan or biking events, visit the City website.

Interchange Makeover Project to Start Soon

The I-75 and St. Rt. 73 intersection located in the City of Springboro and the City of Franklin is getting a makeover, thanks to an Ohio Department of Transportation Safety Grant and a partnership between the two cities, Warren County Transportation Improvement District (WCTID) and ODOT.

The Interchange Safety and Aesthetics Project will be completed in three phases. Phase I should begin soon. The safety portion of the project will be started with the construction of an additional turn lane westbound on St. Rt. 73, under the I-75 overpass turning onto southbound I-75, as well as an additional turn lane on the I-75 northbound off ramp. After the safety improvements are complete, the aesthetic improvements will begin, including gateway enhancements.

ODOT funded 100% of the safety portion of the project for about $2 million, and WCTID will manage the project.

Solicitation Ordinance in Effect

Residents who choose to be a part of the Do Not Solicit List, can register on the City website, www.ci.springboro.oh.us, Do Not Solicit List. The registration is valid until a resident changes addresses.

All solicitors are required to obtain a license subject to a background check, pay a $25 fee and restrict hours for door-to-door sales from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. In addition, the City maintains a "Do Not Solicit List", which prohibits solicitors from making door-to-door contact with any addresses on the list. Solicitors are required to carry the list, the required license and a photo ID when making door-to-door calls.

The ordinance does not affect youth fundraising activities like school, sport or scout sales. Nor does it affect door-to-door political campaigns, collection of signatures or distribution of brochures or other literature. It does affect peddlers and solicitors selling for a profit; for example door-to-door salespersons for landscaping, pest control and roofing companies would all need to have a solicitor's license.

Should a resident have a solicitor at the door without the required license or if a solicitor comes to your door and your address is included on the Do Not Solicit list, please call the Springboro Police Department, 937-748-0611.

Grants Assist Homeowners with Exterior Improvements

Grants helped pay for preapproved exterior improvements, reimbursing the homeowner up to 50 percent of the cost of the project, up to $10,000. The maximum grant is $5,000.

So far, 31 homeowners have applied and received approval, and approximately 27 homeowners have already received the grants for their completed projects.

Remodeling? Get a Permit Before Starting Work

Residents planning to remodel, build or add-on to any structure must first obtain a permit from the Springboro Building/Zoning Department. This includes the construction of decks, fences, patio covers, enclosures, accessory buildings, installation of irrigation systems and the like. Any remodeling to existing houses such as basements or an unfinished area in a home requires building plans to be filed with the City along with a building application. Pick up an application at the City Building or download at www.ci.springboro.oh.us.

Double fees are charged for work completed without a permit and some work may need to be removed and redone. It is very important to apply for the appropriate permit prior to work being started. Problems have developed when residents put their house on the market without proper inspection records on file with the Building Department. Contact the Building/Zoning Department, 937-748-9791, with questions.
